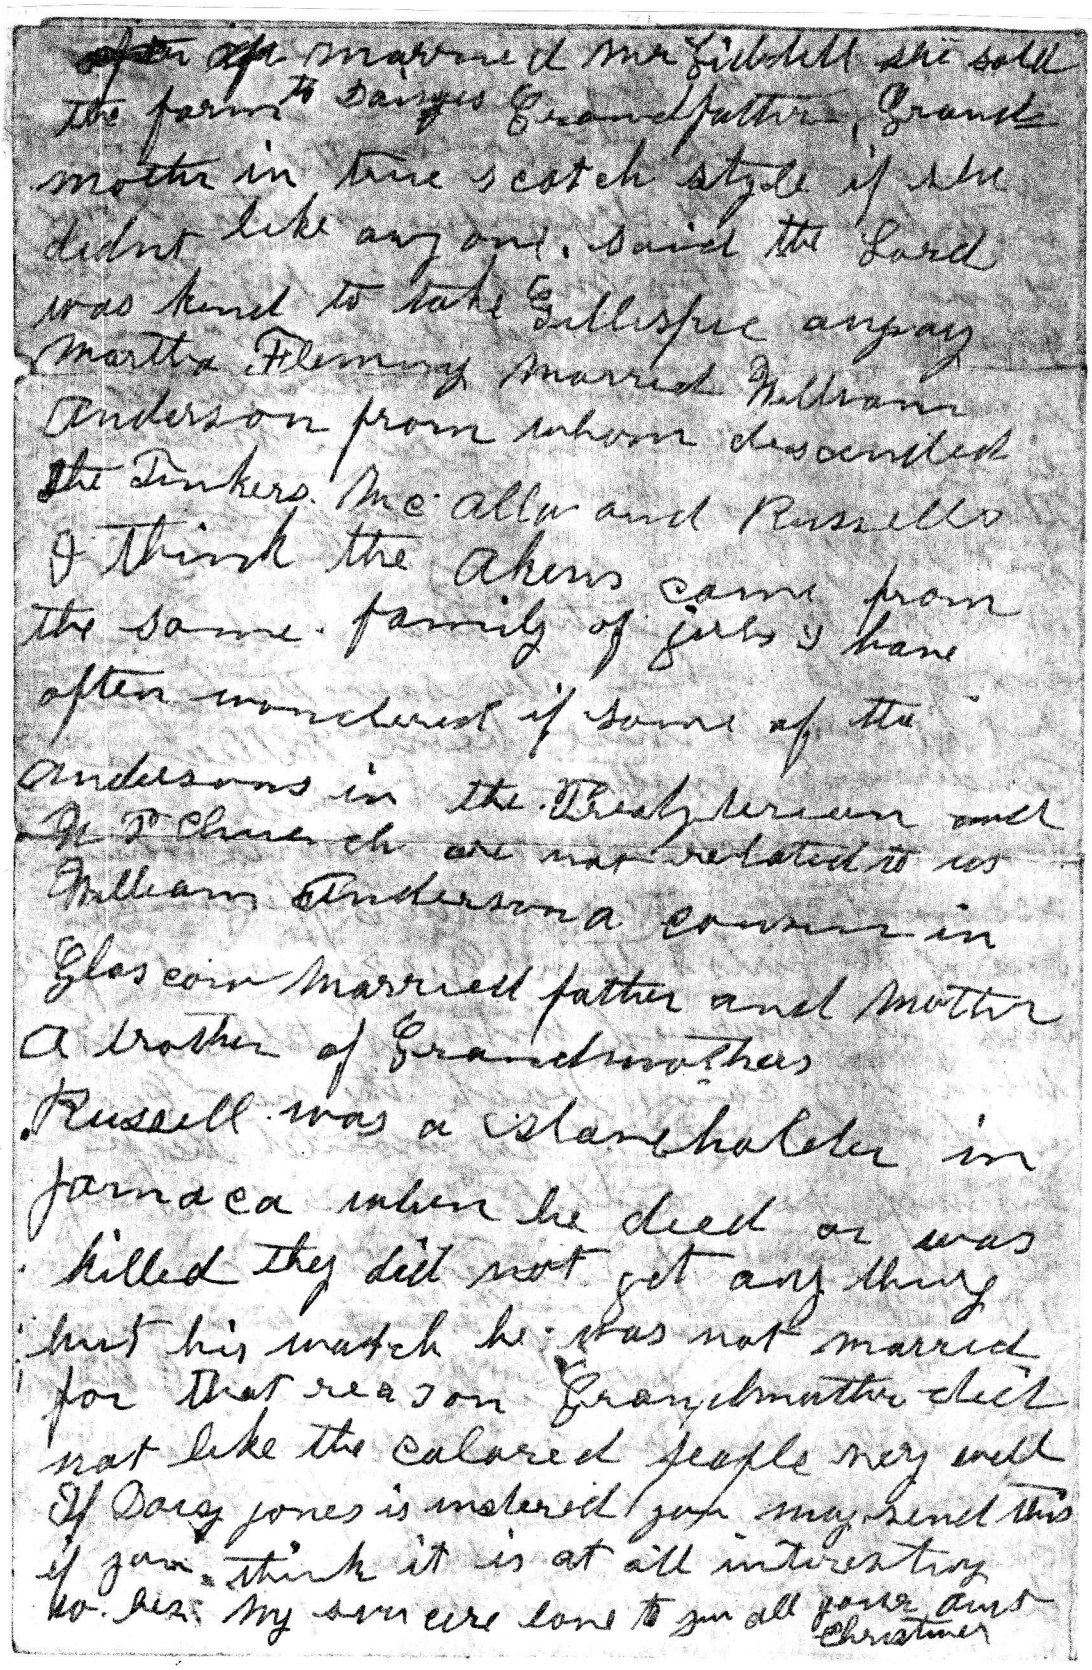
"Grandmother" ni Christina (Anderson) Russell, who apparently did not like Michael Gillespie.

1773

Daisy = EPJ



Married Mr Tibbett she sold the farm to Dargus Grandfather, Grandmother in true scotch style if she didnt like any one, Satan the Lord was kind to take Gillespie away Martha Fleming married Baldwin Anderson from whom descended the Dinkers. Mc Allen and Russells I think the Akers came from the same family of girls I have often wondered if some of the Andersons in the Presbyterian and M. E. Church are not related to us William Anderson a convict in Glascow married father and Mother a brother of Grandmothers Russell was a slaveholder in Jamaica when he died or was killed they did not get any thing but his watch he was not married for that reason Grandmother did not like the Colored people very well If Daisy Jones is interested you may send this if you think it is at all interesting to her. My love are love to you all Yours Aunt Christmas

Michael Gillespie, see p. 1781

father = William Russell, p. 1763; mother = Jean Russell, p. 1763